Pearls of Applied Statistics

Theory and STATA Applications with real data

For Social Sciences and Professional Consulting

Plus Distilled wisdom from the poor households to development households

150

Most Frequently Asked Questions in Applied Statistics

Abdi-Khalil Edriss

German Development Cooperation

Republic of Malawi
Federal Republic of Germany
Can purchase the book from the Department of Agricultural and Applied Economics

For only MK5500

(MK4500 for students only)

Or for bulk ordering

Contact: abdikhalil13@gmail.com
PROFESSOR Abdi-Khalil Edriss

BA.BSc (Maths & Econ), MSc (Stat), MA (Econ), & PhD (Econ), Canada. Former Head of the Department of Agricultural and Applied Economics and currently, Professor of Econometrics and Applied Statistics, teaching mostly postgraduate courses and has authored 14 books and several research articles on international journals in the areas of food security, HIV & AIDS, development, health and others related to developing countries. He is the recipient of national and international awards including Quality of Life Awards from Association of Commonwealth Universities, ABI (UK &USA) world-class recognitions for research, innovation, knowledge creations and disseminations, as well as, Certificate for Distinguished Service for Research and Outreach management from Bunda, University of Malawi.

Expeditions from Applied Probability distributions

Via Sampling Methods
Through Parametric and Non-Parametric Statistics

To Household and Development Indices

BEESCI Series Publications 2013

International i-Publishers

ISBN 0-9732561-7-8